

OPEN CALL for Design Submissions

Journal of Architectural Education

Design Editor: Jori Erdman,
Clemson University (jerdman@clemson.edu)

Beginning with the September 2007 issue of the Journal of Architectural Education, the JAE established the publishing of architectural design (research, scholarship, and critical inquiry) as central to the journal's mission. In addition to publishing juried "design articles," the JAE's expanded Reviews Section now includes reviews of buildings, projects, installations, exhibitions, and competitions, in addition to various documents.

In this Open Call we invite submission of previously unpublished design work for blind peer-review. This work may be the product of an academic studio, or created directly by the submitting author(s). Work will be judged primarily on how it extends architectural inquiry, particularly in relation to image and text. Submission requirements and the review process are outlined on the JAE website at <http://jaeonline.org/> under the category, Design as Scholarship.

These General Design Submissions (those not related to a particular theme call) received, before March 7, 2008, will be juried by the JAE's Design Committee at ACSA's National Meeting in Houston. Premiated submissions from this Open Call will be published as design articles in Volume 62 (2008-09).

Deadline for Submission: March 07, 2008

Inquiries: George Dodds, Executive Editor, at gdodds@utk.edu
